MILWAUKEE, May 18—America is the country of opportunity, and Milwaukee is one of the best American cities. All over America are opportunities, visible to the majority when it is too late to solve them. What everybody knows is not so valuable.

For instance, consider the baby carriage business that C. J.
Smith managed in Milwaukee up to 1887.

Fifty thousand dollars would have bought it. A. O. Smith inherited it, and made bicycle parts.

In 1904 the A. O. Smith corporation was formed and L. R.
Smith, grandson of C. J., took charge. His father put $35,000 and others put $95,000 more into the corporation.

L. R. Smith did new things, making frames for automobiles, keeping up with the times, and ahead of them.

Time passed, and in 1923 J. R.
Uihlein advised this writer and other friends, "Buy stock in the A. O. Smith corporation. A very able man, with new ideas, is running it."

The stock sold then for $13 a share. A little later it sold at $25 a share, and five shares were given for one.

The baby carriage business that you could have bought in 1887 for $50,000, or in 1923 for $130,000, now sells on the stock exchange at $400,000,000.

Spend an hour in that Milwaukee plant on the edge of Lake Michigan, study the head of the business, and his methods, and you will know why this is a properous country.

The ablest American manufacturers could learn about mass production and labor saving in L. R. Smith's plants.

One of his mills, making 35,000 automobile frames a week, for Chevrolet, using marvellous automatic machinery, does with 200 men work that requires 2000 men in other plants.

One automatic machine, changing steel sheets into steel frames, is 350 feet long. In one place machinery and 34 men handle 14,000 side bars and 30,000 cross bars, and drive 1,000,000 rivets per day.

Machines do the work, men look on. From the floor below heavy steel rivets are blown up through this pipes by air power, plaid in the frames and handle there, no hand touching anything.

There you see solved the problems raised by inadequate immigration.

At certain spots the men, with literally nothing to do but look on, find it hard to stay awake, and it has actually been suggested that a mechanism be arranged to shake the floor on which they stand at intervals to rouse them.

L. R. Smith makes pipes up to 28 inches in diameter, without heating, as achievement hitherto unknown. The cold steel sheets, 20 feet long, are rolled into pipes and welded. And the weld, as proved by tests, is stronger than the unwelded metal.

One order under way calls for 400 miles of pipe.

And disinterested experts say

FIND GIRL'S BODY IN HARBOR AT S. BOSTON

Revealing either a murder or suicide, in the opinion of the police, the fully clothed body of a young woman floated to the surface of the harbor near Sprague wharf, E. St., South Boston, today.

Police refused to estimate the victim's age. In their opinion the body had been in the water since early last winter. An autopsy will be performed by the medical examiner.

The body was that of a person five feet six inches in height, who weighed probably about 125 pounds.
The garments included a black skirt and white sweater with a heavy brown chinilla coat.

Probe Vice Den Court Records

Viceing members and their assisted "protections" quailed today as Dist. Atty. William J. Foley launched an entire new phase of his grand investigation.

Under orders from his chief, Special Officer Martin Conroy, attached to the district attorney's staff, he got a probe of every case involving disorderly houses in the Boston courts during the first quarter of the current year.

An individual who is said to have been, and that he alone could guarantee "protection," is understood to be one of the primary subjects of the inquiry.

The cases Conroy went to work on are in number. Most of those resulted from reports to the police by agents of the Watch and Ward Society and were presented in court by a lawyer representing the society.

On all of them, members of the police vice and liquor squad co-operated.

In none of the cases, according to reports, is there any record of a defendant—whether proprietor of a disorderly house, an inmate or other person connected therewith—going to jail.

It was disclosed that Inspector

DARING THIEVES STEAL TRAY OF DIAMONDS IN WINTER STREET STORE

Walking into Stowell's jewelry store on Winter st. shortly after noon today two men seized two trays filled with diamonds, valued at from $10,000 to $20,000, thrust them under their coats and fled.

George A. Parker, diamond salesman, who was busy with other customers at the time, witnessed the theft, and shouting,
"Stop thief!" gave chase to the fleeing men.

The fugitives dashed down Winter st., through the thick of the shopping crowd and dived into the tunnel station, with Parker close behind.

BOMBS WRECK HOME OF SACCO'S EXECUTIONER

The "Long live anarchy!" death cry of Bartolomeo Vanzetti re-echoed in Richmond Hill, N. Y., today, when the terrific explosions of two bombs wrecked the home of Robert Elliott, executioner of Vanzetti and Sacco.

Elliott, his wife, their son and daughter and a cousin, were in the Long Island home when the blasts partially demolished
it. All were thrown from their beds, but escaped serious injury.

The victory of the two Massachu-sealed when Col. George M. J. Weeks, U. S. Army, referee of the matches, listed the final official standing of teams entered in the 1922-23 competitions.

As a reward, massive armor be presented to the victors in the name of Mr. Hearst, who sponsored the matches first in 1921.

The Technology team, which won the Eastern championship in the

of Arthur Elliott, Robert Harbuck,

There is a new and modern mode hay-carpeted beach. It was dis-

the stylish clearance and precaution availed nothing to 12 Greater Boston

The dozen alleged rum-runners as well as two division trucks and two costly cars were seized.

Deputy Collector Thomas F. Fin-agents. The men captured are Joseph Henry, Hyman Aronson, John Harrington, John Campbell and Joseph Allen, all of Chelsea; Mose

all of Revere; George Cohen of

4 ESCAPE DEATH AS HOME OF SACCO EXECUTIONER IS BOMBED

DWELING WRECKED BY BOMBS

That the bombing was the work of sympathizers who during the last two years caused by the same method the destruction of Massachusetts homes of two persons closely identified with the Sacco-Vanzetti trial, police and members of New York's bomb squad are convinced.

Robert Elliott, threatened with death many times before he had thrown the switch which sent the radio signals to the bomb at Charleston, said today he was sure Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers were responsible. For the attempt to destroy his family.

RECEIVED MANY THREATS

Before the execution he received many letters threatening death if he went through with the execution. New York authorities were in immediate telephone communication with Elliott and Massachusetts police and all began an immediate checkup of persons of known anarchist tendencies who were active before the execution of Vanzetti and his companion.

Many of the threats Elliott received were from Massachusetts and the fact that no arrest has ever been made for the bombing last August of the Milton home of Lewis McElarry, Sacco-Vanzetti trial juror, has caused to the belief the bombs may have been constructed and set by the same persons.

There were two distinct explosions at the Elliott home, which is in the Queenborough section of Long Island. The first was on the front porch of the two-story stone residence, the second on the rear porch. These occurred within a few moments of each other.

TWO BOMBS EXPLODED

Explosion of the first demolished the front piazza and caved in the front of the house. The concussion was felt for more than a mile and many windows of buildings in the vicinity of the Elliott home were shattered.

The second blast was less severe, all of its damage being limited to the rear porch. The explosion shattered the neighborhood and confusion prevailed in the district, hundreds of excitedly clad persons filling the streets in the belief an earthquake had occurred.

Early awoke, Elliott, his wife, Dore, his daughter, Gertrude, 17, Robert, Jr., 11, and Thomas, 10, the couple, emerged from the debris of their narrow escape.

They refused an escort from the home. "We are going to remain here," Elliott said, "until we are safe."

No one was seen running from the scene of the bombing, but police have a report that a large red touring car, carrying four men, was near the home half an hour before the explosion. Orders were broadcast for the interception of all cars of such description.

It is the theory of members of the bomb squad that the bombs were in place some time before their fuses or timing mechanism ignited the explosion.

For many months following the Sacco-Vanzetti executions, Elliott's home was under special guard be-

11 DRIVEN OUT IN 2-ALARM FIRE

A two-alarm fire of undetermined origin today drove to the street Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanson and nine roomers at 3 Lancaster st., North Cambridge. The blaze, which started near the roof, was discovered by Miss Catherine Wordell, one of the lodgers, and Patrolman Peter Murphy, who covers that route, turned in an alarm.

By the time the firemen arrived the blaze had worked down to the second floor of the 1½-story wooden house and a lack of pressure necessitated turning in a second alarm. Fireman John Wallace of Ladder 4 was partially overcome by smoke, but after being taken into the open air revived and continued his duties. Several firemen were struck by debris falling from the roof.

Fireman Frank Nolan was also affected slightly by smoke. Those driven out, who escaped without their valuables, some of them in night clothing, were Bernice Bartlett, Emily White, Catherine Wordell, Mary Thatcher of the Cambridge health department, Gertrude Siders, Florence Spring, Robert Gray and William Hanson, 13-year-old son of the household.

Mrs. Hanson went through the house arousing the lodgers and made sure that all reached the street safely. The loss was placed at between $15,000 and $20,000.

Fitz Ham "Seen a Good Fight Since Leaving Ireland"

Detroit, May 15 (AP)—Although Major James Fitz Ham of the transatlantic plane Bremen has attended two outstanding bouts in the month's program, he hasn't witnessed a good fight since leaving Ireland.

This was his observation after attending the match here between Joe Dundee, welterweight champion, and George Levine, Champion and challenger were ordered out of the ring for stalling after nine lasso rounds.

"I saw the best between Jack Sharkey and Jack Delaney in New York," Maj. Fitz Ham said. "It was finished almost as soon as it began. I had hoped to see a more interesting exhibition here."

planned for Albany, N. Y., will not be made. They will visit Albany later.

The plan for their departure from Detroit Monday morning is to fly to the airport and may not be decided until definite word comes as to the possibility of completing repairs on the P-11 in time for the plane to fly here to be used by the Bremen again.

The parade is scheduled to start at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Arlington and Beacon streets, proceeding along Beacon, Hereford, Newbury and Dartmouth streets to the mayor's reviewing stand at Conroy st. in front of the Public Library and then along Dartmouth and Street st. to Park st.

From Park st. the firemen will adjourn to Parkman bandstand on the Common, where a long program of band music, choral singing and speeches, including words from Capt. Koehl, Maj. Fitz Ham and Mayor Brewster, will start at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The reception at the arena will be held at 8 p. m. to be followed by the firemen's demonstration on the Common at 10 p. m. tomorrow. On Sunday morning at 10:30, the firemen will attend the annual memorial military mass at Fenway Park.

Sunday night there will be a reception and banquet to the Bremen trio at the Cooper Hotel. Hosted under the auspices of the combined German and Irish societies of Massachusetts.

Timothy O. Smiddy, Irish Free State Minister, was due in Boston today from Washington to take part in the setting of the flame, one of whom, Fitz Ham, is a countryman.

For arrival of the firemen a police detail of 11 lieutenants, 14 sergeants, 583 patrolmen and 11 motorcycle officers will be on special duty, according to an order issued by Police Supt. Michael H. Crowley to all divisions.

These men will be stationed at the airport, along Boston's part of the route to the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, in the vicinity of the hotel and in and around the Boston Arena.

Plain clothes men from the Bureau of Criminal Investigation will be in the crowds to guard against pickpockets.

Supt. Crowley ordered that no day of relief be permitted any officers. Criticism of Mayor Nichols for the "hubbub created in unseemly a flow of wires to Washington and other sources" was expressed today by Christopher de Groot, local manager of the North German Lloyd line and local representative of the Bremen fire.

LOWTHORPE GARDENS SOCIETY MECCA TOMORROW, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Colonial Estate in Groton Is One of Superior At-

Springtime

EVER SO MANY OF SO-

Motors will spin along the roads leading to Groton, notable country village, famous these many years for its boys' school for its boys' school. Groton has tomorrow there is open house

sion at Lowthorpe and its gaily blooming gardens will be on view.

BOSTONIANS OF THE higher orders are much interested in Lowthorpe. Mrs.

Mrs. Frederic E. W. Richardson, Mrs. L. Tucker Burge, these are some of the few importantly placed ones interested in gardens and therefore keenly interested in Lowthorpe. Just now a garden pilgrimage to Groton is richly rewarded—spring blossoms are riotously abloom against a fresh green background, and sunbrite glints on lily pond and wicket pool.
Tea, in the garden, is a further reward reserved for late afternoon.

SPEAKING OF GARDENS, IT

make Lookout Court in Mar-

the Rolands come early and stay late, that Marbledale may have leisure to serve up to Mr. Roland, the artist, its very choicest bits of atmosphere, many of which abide immediately at hand in Lookout Court itself. Much of the Court's reputation is due the Rolands in large measure, since several years ago they realized its possibilities and acted accordingly.

ACQUIRING BIT BY BIT
this and that house of the Court, and then restoring old-time simplicities and primitive charms became a labor of love for both. So now in this year of grace it happens their dreams materialize. Congenial friends are their neighbors, and they themselves occupy the tall old house, the "Lookout" itself, that dominates and delectates the Court. Mr. Roland's studio, perhaps the most charming item of the Court's attractiveness, was a last summer's addition. Its every foundation stone and hand-hewn beam were gathered with utmost care and lovingly composed into a small house that fits into the ancient landscape perfectly.

NAVY BILL IN A TWO FISHERMEN HURT IN BLAST

Washington, May 18 (AP)—The $274,000 naval ship building bill designed to put the American navy into first-class fighting condition, is threatened with defeat through a Senate filibuster.

Despite the big majority given the bill in the House and a unanimous report of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, the bill was securely "landlocked" on the calendar today. Backers of the measure, who declare that its failure will result in the United States dropping still further behind Great Britain and Japan in the naval standings, were bending every effort to bring it to a vote. Opponents by Senator Borah (R) of Idaho and La Follette (R) of Wisconsin have twice prevented consideration.

"The bill is caught in a jam, but I hope we will be able to pass it," said Sen. Hale of Maine.

A gasoline tank explosion today aboard the fishing boat Elizabeth killed two men and hurled them into the water.

More than a dozen other boats whose crews were probing, to break them out of the fleet preparatory to the day's fishing, were endangered by the resulting fire, and one of the fragile fishermen tumbled overboard in the excitement of getting his boat away.

The men killed were Joseph Orlando of North St. North End, and Vincent Volpe of Hovine St. Somerville. They were taken to City-market Relief Hospital, where Volpe was found also to have suffered injuries to his leg.

Patrolman Deneberg of the Hanover st. station attracted to the scene by the blast, summoned a fireboat. A line was put on the floating boat and it was towed to the flats, where the flames were extinguished.

ICEBOX BANDITS TO BE TAKEN TO CONNECTICUT

Governor Fuller today signed extradition papers sending back to Connecticut Roland G. Lejone and Albert J. Raymond, both of Worcester, known to the police as the "icebox bandits," to answer to a charge of murdering Irving H. Nelson, Connecticut State patrolman, at Pomfret on April 8.

The officers, for one of several departments to be conducted by specialists, will be directed by Dr. C. Paul Snyder, osteopathic surgeon of Philadelphia. Dr. Snyder has specialized for many years in the treatment of the eustachian tube in remedy impaired hearing.

OSTEOPATHS TO GIVE FREE EAR CLINICS

A free clinic for persons with impaired hearing will be conducted at the 14th annual convention of the New England Osteopathic Association in the Hotel Statler, Boston, to day and tomorrow.

The clinic, for ear disorders, one of several departments to be conducted by specialists, will be directed by Dr. C. Paul Snyder, osteopathic surgeon of Philadelphia. Dr. Snyder has specialized for many years in the treatment of the eustachian tube in remedy impaired hearing.

RECORD SALES MADE BY WILLYS-OVERLAND, INC.

"Willys-Overland, Inc., of Boston, recorded the greatest new and used car sales in its history during the past three months," announced E. H. Hinckley, manager of the used car department. "Used car business tripled during that time," he declared.

The introduction of Improved Willys-Knight and Whippet models proved to be the biggest single factor in this increase.

NOBILE FAILS TO SIGHT NEW LAND IN DASH OVER POLAR WASTES

FLIERS DARE DEATH ON TRIP THROUGH ARCTIC FOGS

By GEN. UMBERTO NOBILE, Commander-in-Chief of the Dirigible Italia.

Cape Verde, May 17.—(By wire.)—The Italia, the dirigible which was launched from the airship base at Cape Verde, May 17.—It is now 10:30 p. m. and we are about 140 kilometres southeast of Cape Verde.

We are proceeding normally and fog and snow making for the north point of British region.

The wireless had been functioning perfectly. Our supply ship, Citta di Milano, has been keeping in touch with the Italia continuously, while the Italia has been using a 210-metre wave. Beyond the limit of a thousand kilometres on both sides, when waves were used on both sides with complete success.

I tried to establish a radio telegram direct to Moscow last evening and might have succeeded in establishing communication, but unfortunately by some European station interfered.

Flier Byrd Defies Heat as Well as Icy Blasts

Plainfield, N. J., May 18 (ENR).—The flier who has been the cold of the Arctic regions today as he braves over his head.

As he was to begin an illustrated lecture at 7 p. m. Plainfield high school fire broke out in the stage hallways over his head.

While the flier was in the audience, the flier, Byrd, held his ground on the stage and reassured his audience of 1,000 men and women that there was no danger.

The members of the audience kept their seats, and after the flier had finished the lecture the flier began his lecture on his flight to the Arctic.

NOBILE IS BACK AT KING'S BAY

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, May 18 (AP).—The dirigible Italia returned to her base here at 9:15 a. m. today from an exploring trip to Lena Land.

The dirigible had been in flight for almost 88 hours over a course of some 2,000 miles, having left Kings Bay 1:30 p. m. Tuesday.

On the return trip the Italia fought against a stiff northwest breeze with gasoline pump running low.

Officers aboard the mother ship, Citta di Milano, pined over the flier and sent out bearings to the Italia by wireless in response to repeated requests from Gen. Nobile. Radio messages from the airship had indicated that it was encountering considerable difficulty in making its way.

Gen. Nobile sailed over Lena Land for four hours while on the flight. The view was so forbidding, however, that he abandoned his plan to land men on the unexplored terrain to make various scientific investigations.

ALL AMERICANS TO DIE, SAYS SANDINO

Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, May 18 (U.S.)—Following close upon news of a battle between United States marines and guerrillas north of Matagalpa, in which one marine was killed, Harry Amphlett, manager of the American-owned La Loma and Los Angeles mines, received a letter from the rebels threatening death to all United States citizens in Nicaragua.

Amphlett, in the Pie Pie River district, found rebels after their first raid had returned to the mine colony and destroyed all the buildings except two. Amphlett also found a letter from the outlaw chief Sandino, which said in part:

"I have the honor to inform you that on this day your mining property was reduced to ashes. This is in accordance with my command and it represents a terrible protest against the warlike invasion your government has made in our territory without more right than that of brute force."

"To ease the Government of the United States does not order the withdrawal of its garrisons from our territory there will be no guarantee for the North Americans residing in Nicaragua. I am convinced that the people of North America applaud the intervention of the United States Government in our country."

"It is for this reason that all North Americans who fall into our hands will have reached their end."

"The losses you may have suffered from destruction of your mine you may collect from the United States Government, and from Calvin Coolidge, who is responsible for the horrible and disastrous situation that prevails in Nicaragua today."

U. S. Marines Hunt Slayers of American

Managua, Nicaragua, May 18 (AP)—Pushing their way through the jungles of the north, American marines today were tracking down the rebel slayers of a comrade in arms.

In the most severe combat since February 27, one marine and one Nicaraguan national guardman were killed, and the commanding officer of the patrol, Capt. Robert S. Hunter, of Kansas, and another marine were wounded.

Sixty to 75 insurgents and 25 marines and 10 guardsmen took part in the clash which occurred near Pasa Road, 45 miles northwest of Jinotega and across the Cusurrua fighting against odds.

The marines killed five rebels, and wounded five. The names of the United States casualties were not learned.

Two relief columns were rushed from Jinotega toward the region, which is thickly forested and has little explored. These marines, under Maj. Keller E. Hooley of Indiana, were to assist the wounded and take up the pursuit of the rebels.

Lynn Hearse Driver Is Fined $60 as Speeder

Enos G. Brown of Verona st., Lynn, paid $60 in Lynn District Court for driving a hearse 30 miles an hour to a funeral. He was fined $30 for driving so as to endanger the public and $30 for speeding.

Public Welfare Commissioner J. Malcolm MacAuley of Revere will pay city charity to himself if the City Council continues to refuse to confirm his appointment by Mayor Walsh and withhold his pay.

"I'll stay on the job as commissioner and will appeal to myself to get paid if I'm not paid the salary the job calls for," he said. "I'm not asking either. I'll need all for myself and family if they don't pay me."

MacAuley got a leave of absence for eight months from the Boston & Maine railroad to fill the position, succeeding Michael Dineen, who resigned when the salary was cut from $2500 to $2100. In spite of the Council's order to withhold his pay, MacAuley drew his first week's salary, getting it just before the order rescinded the proper officials.

JAIL FOR GIRLS IN HARVARD RAID

House of Correction sentences were meted out today to five girls caught with nine Harvard students in a police raid on an apartment on Harvard st., Cambridge.

Each of the girls went as she was sentenced to serve 10 days. All five appealed and were held in bonds of $20 each.

The girls are Lee Worthington, 21, of Charleston; Rita T. Moore, 21, of Somerville; Mary D. Oza, 21, of Jamaica Plain; Margaret Adams, 19, of Roxbury; Ruth Brennan, 21, of Cambridge.

Judge Arthur P. Stone in East Cambridge District Court found all of them guilty of disturbing the peace and the Worthington girl also guilty of drunkenness.

The case of the Harvard students, arrested with them, were dismissed earlier this week, with $10 fines for each of the youths and the placing on file of the remaining three cases.

Judge Stone said he was severe with the girls because he did not think they were telling the truth about the affair.

When Atty. Arthur V. Sullivan, who made an earnest plea, commented on the publicity given the case, the court replied: "I am also sorry for the publicity given the case. If it was shameful publicity, it was so because the case was disgraceful."

OFFERS REWARD FOR RETURN OF GEMS

A reward was offered today, according to the police, for recovery of jewelry valued at $1500 and valuable pieces stolen from the automobile of W. P. Roddick, a South street jewelry merchant.

Roddick's car was taken two, but was recovered in the South End a few hours after it disappeared from a front of the side entrance of the Hill-Canton hotel, Newbury st., back Bay. The jewelry, papers, clothing and a motion picture camera were missing from the automobile.

The amount of the reward was not made known. Police said Roddick did not intend to prosecute if the valuables were recovered. The jewelry consisted of black oval studs, diamond cuff links and other such trinkets.

The merchant was on his way to Andover to attend the anniversary celebration. A hotel doorman reported seeing two men drive away in the car and police have their descriptions.

Bay Stater Claims 200 Million Left by Ancient Brewer

Pittsfield, May 18 (AP)—The estate of Sir Andrew Chadwick, London brewer, which has been awaiting a lawful claimant since late in the 18th century, may come into the Berkshire Hills.

Dwight M. Couch of this city will receive at least a large portion of it if he can prove before the English courts his claim that his grandmother was a daughter of Sir Andrew's brother, John. Other descendants of John Chadwick, the grandmother, who was a resident of Lee, live in this section and are interested in the claim.

TWO PAINTERS HURT WHEN STAGING FALLS

Collapsing of a stage in West Broadway courtrooms at Forest Hills today resulted in injuries to two painters, William List and Patrick Dwyer, engaged in refitting the criminal court room. The men were carried across the street to the Forest Hills Hospital, where Dwyer was released after treatment for bruising. List was held, however, for X-ray examination.

Newsboys to Dance

POWER TRUSTS KEEP TABS ON CONGRESSMEN

Washington, May 18 (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission blasted the lid off the so-called power lobby today by revealing its reporting on movements of members of Congress and their families to suppress news that a giant power lobby was busy in Washington, and slipping over and over again on the power trust.

The charges that a power lobby passed the word to a Washington correspondent that he "would be generously treated" was another sensation of the hearing in the commission's investigation of the electric power interest.

Announcement that the commission will investigate alleged propaganda activities in New York city and State and at hearing beginning May 25, was made as the hearing ended here. Fred W. Cronk, New York city, director of the New York State commission on utility information, and H. B. Chadwick, secretary of the Empire State Electric and Chemical Association of New York city were subpoenaed.

ON TRAIL OF 'BROTHERS'

A new stack of telegrams from the Washington office of the joint committee on National Utilization, evidenced feverish activity before and after the present session of Congress opened with Boulder dam and the proposed antitrust power investigation awaiting action.

On November 18 the Washington lobby headquarters wired Maj. J. S. Richardson, its "strong arm" propaganda director in New York, "Bretton is in town. Arrived about four days ago."

The message was aimed John P. Finney, who is understood to be a member of the Washington office staff. It was marked "Bretton to Richardson." Richardson, Newcomb is the $25,000 a year chief lobbyist of the joint committee. Commission officials believed "Bretton" to be Senator from Illinois, Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New Mexico.

NO NEED OF 'PERSUASION'

A Postal telegram on November 14, signed by Newcomb himself and addressed to William L. Tamm, governor for the New York election, interests, who was shown to have been working with Newcomb during the Congressional fight, started with this message:

"He did not need to be persuaded, as I discovered over the telephone, message, like all the others, being couched in courteous, so far as identities and methods of activity were concerned."

The message added:

"I hope you will reach Chicago Wednesday and look me up in the evening at the Blackstone."

HUB MAN CONTROLS BIG THEATER CHAIN

The amazing growth of the local motion picture concern known as "Nateco," the New England Theater Operating Co., under the control of Samuel P. Pinsky, from the beginning of its 16 years ago, when he threw in his lot with the Deacons of Tremont st., until today when he controls more than two dozen of the finest suburban theaters in Greater Boston, Boston, Pinsky has steadily increased his power in motion pictures.

Born in Russia, Pinsky and his brother, Mr. Pinsky, are the sons of Nathan Pinsky of Roxbury, noted for his philanthropic activities. His education was gained in the Phillips Brooks school and in the Volkman school, after which he studied the design at the Lowell Textile Institute. He is married and has two small daughters.

MAINE SURVEY CONFERENCE OPENED

Bangor, Me., May 18 (AP)—With more than a dozen of the country's outstanding leaders in the field of industry, agriculture, economics and education present as speakers, the first annual economic conference of the Maine Development Commission, which is a preliminary step to a comprehensive survey of the assets of the State, opened here today.

The conference will last two days and will endeavor to bring out vital facts upon which the future progress of the State depends, for the exhaustive survey which is said to be the first undertaken by any state. After an invocation by President Warren J. Moulton of Bangor, the logical Seminars, an address of welcome by Mayor John Wilson, and greetings from the State by Governor Elisha O. Brewster, Chairman of the Maine Development Commission, opened the conference.

Chairman Moulton gave a detailed history of the commission and explained the purpose of the conference, quoting Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, as having stated that the conference and survey "represent distinct steps towards which will be of greatest importance to your State and will serve as an example for other states."

Other speakers on the morning program included John S. Lawrence of Boston, president of the New England Council; Merwin C. Hart, member and founder of the New York State Industrial Survey Commission; Clemens J. France of the community advertising department of the New York Times.

Civil War Vet to Wed Third Time at Age of 83

Attleboro, May 18—For the third time romance has stepped into the life of William Henry Burns, 83, Civil War veteran. He is to wed Jennie M. Gregorie, 43, a widow. Burns has been married twice, and is each case because a widower. His second wife died a year ago.

There will probably be several amendments recommended by the senate committee. These, however, are said to be not of a nature to precipitate permanent disagreement. Several senators who have studied the House bill would prefer to see the Secretary of War, or the secretary of war and navy and the Director of the Veterans Bureau take the place of the Red Cross as the supervising agency of the appearing pilgrimage of the Gold Star Mothers to the overseas graves of their sons who fell in the great war. This substitution will be promptly approved, it is believed by sponsors of the legislation in the House.

How many Gold Star Mothers have already been able to make this pilgrimage at their own expense is not yet known. Nor is it known how many Gold Star Mothers would be eligible to make the trip at government expense.

What most appeals to the senators interested in this bill is the opportunity afforded the home government to enable every Gold Star Mother in the land who has not yet been able to see the grave on which rests the mortal remains of her son to make the journey at the expense of the people and under the auspices of the government in whose defense her son made the supreme sacrifice.

Enough Gold Star Mothers have already indicated their wish to join such a pilgrimage to make a ship load.

SENATE FAVORS BILL FOR GOLD STAR MOTHERS

By JAMES T. WILLIAMS, Jr.
Washington, May 18—Members of the senate committee on military affairs of which Senator Reed of Pennsylvania is chairman, said today that they hoped to report the Gold Star Mothers bill favorably to the Senate within a few days. It has passed the House.

There will probably be several amendments recommended by the senate committee. These, however, are said to be not of a nature to precipitate permanent disagreement. Several senators who have studied the House bill would prefer to see the Secretary of War, or the secretary of war and navy and the Director of the Veterans Bureau take the place of the Red Cross as the supervising agency of the appearing pilgrimage of the Gold Star Mothers to the overseas graves of their sons who fell in the great war. FOLEY PROBES COURT RECORDS OF VICE DEN

John Mitchell, who has been specially assigned to the attorney general's office since the beginning of the big extortion investigation of 1921, was an interested "spectator" in Municipal Court during some of these cases.

This disclosure led to a report that Atty. Gen. Arthur K. Reading had planned an investigation. Reading refused to comment today.

"I have no comment to make at this time," said the attorney general, "Nicholas Cockburn, Watch and Ward's agent, and one of the five men under the indictment in the Ritz Hotel case, declared today that he had no fear of the outcome of charges against him and he also commented on the society's participation in the case. Conroy is assigned to investigate."

"I have no fear as to the outcome of charges made against me, because my friends are so numerous that they will be able to see that I am in no way implicated," he said. "My conscience is clear."

He was asked about the case involving disorderly houses when met in the courthouse corridor, outside one of the sessions of the superior court.

LACK OF JAIL TERMS.

His interrogators remarked on the reported lack of jail sentences on the records of these cases and asked him if the society made the recommendations upon which disposition of the cases were made.

"The responsibility was upon me," he said. "The Watch and Ward and the police handled the cases. I assisted whenever the society was participating in all. The police are listed on the records as the complainants in most of the cases of that sort."

"Where we participated the cases were not prosecuted by me or any agent, but by an attorney for the society or by the police."

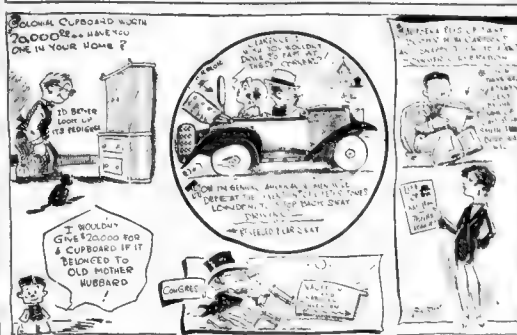

Cockburn also said he did not know any of the men indicted with him except Albert Biddinger.

"The only reason I know Biddinger is because we were members of the same bar review class several years ago. That's all we have in common."

NEVER BOASTED OF POWER.

Special Officer Conroy's investigation will comprise a thorough inquiry into each individual case, and among the things he will ascertain are the names of the owners of the property involved, the names of the

Because a photograph in the Boston Evening American, showing a new engine built by the Boston & Maine locomotive works, led to hundreds of telegrams to the railroad office to persons wishing to see the new engine, the railroad today announced a public showing tomorrow and Sunday.

The showing will be at the locomotive works, located near the new U. S. N. office building and the trolley transfer station.

The photograph of the engine, as published in the American, gave an excellent idea of the engine of the new type of equipment being introduced in New England by the Boston & Maine.

The railroad has ordered a fleet of 50 of this super-power type at a total cost of $1,000,000. The engine that the public will see in the first of the fleet and goes into regular service on the Boston division in a short time.

way in between the early white stones of Lanessville Cemetery and took up positions overlooking the bay beside an abandoned granite pier.

Boundlessly and with their forms hardly discernible in the blackness, men were carrying burdens from where the sea lapped the beach, to lighted automobiles that made many trips from the sand to two trucks a quarter of a mile away and just off the main road.

As their eyes became accustomed to the blackness, the silent watchers could discern the dim outlines of a sketch in the bay, from which trays were being taken to shore.

And they saw also, to their surprise, that the beach had been dotted deep with at least four tons of boxes, many of which carried the unmistakable danger of bottles breaking when the sacks were put down by the carriers.

When they believed the bulk of the liquor to have been landed, the agents, on a signal, leaped into the open with revolvers drawn and captured the dozen men without difficulty. The men and cargo were brought to Boston.

These giraffes, captured in East Africa, were part of the floating zoo that arrived at Pier 3, East Boston, aboard the steamship Kabinga. A fifth giraffe succumbed at sea. They will be taken to Nashua, N. H., for two weeks of quarantine. Three hundred monkeys died on the long voyage across the Atlantic also. There was aboard a rhinoceros, said to be the largest ever brought to these shores.

EVERY FAMILY IS ENTITLED TO THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S

$10,000

ACCIDENT
INSURANCE POLICY
AT ONLY

ONE DOLLAR!

ACCIDENTS always seem to happen to those least expecting them, and yet scarcely 2% of those killed and injured have made any preparation at all for their dependents in case of accident. The Boston Evening American believes that no man continually subjecting himself to accident in modern daily life has any right to leave his family unprotected.

We have, therefore, made an out-and-out offer to provide the best obtainable accident insurance policy to every family in New England. Through the great facilities of this great newspaper we have bought these policies for $1 each and we will distribute them at $1, paying all additional expenses ourselves, so that everyone, rich or poor, may have one of these policies.

This remarkable offer of a $10,000 accident insurance policy for $1 carries the Boston Evening American's Safety Drive to the highest point of public service. The Boston Evening American is powerless to prevent the physical hardships and injuries that result from accidents, but it CAN AND DOES protect the family and the individual from want and privation due to the injury or loss of the head of the family.

Mayor Nichols, ex-Registrar Goodwin and many other civic and business leaders heartily endorse the Boston Evening American's plan of safety and protection. This is the most liberal, iron-clad accident insurance policy we have been able to discover. These policies are underwritten by the North American Accident Insurance Company, the oldest and largest exclusive accident and health insurance company in the United States.

Play safe! Take advantage of it! Protect your dependents; it is your solemn duty. To get this policy all you have to do is fill out the coupon and send it to the Boston Evening American with your registration fee of $1.00. Do it now, before you turn this page.

Only one policy will be given to one person, but every family is permitted to take out a policy for every member between the ages of 15 and 70. No physical examination is necessary. No strings are attached to the offer. There are no complicated conditions.

HOWARD V. BAKER, JR.

Mrs. Howard V. Baker, Jr., is due to defend her Women's Golf Association of Boston title next week at the Weston Golf Club.

Two years ago, at the Kenwood Country Club, Mrs. Baker was defeated in one of the early rounds and lost her title to Miss S. D. Waxman.

Just prior to the championship at Kenwood, Mrs. Baker was afflicted with an attack of neuritis and unable to play on her usual form.

Mr. Baker's father was a noted golfer and was so enthusiastic over the game that he had a nine-hole course constructed on his estate and it was on that layout that Mrs. Baker started her golf.

Although there may be women golfers throughout this country better known, there are few better shot makers than Mrs. Baker.

Being the mother of four children, Mrs. Baker is obliged to sandwich her golf in with her family duties.

There is a little time and less desire to practice than the general run of women golfers.

There are some departments of the game where Mrs. Baker is excelled by some of the nationally and internationally known women golfers, but no player, woman or man, can excel her in determination.

Mrs. Baker is a fighter, she shows a real it to the end and in the end when the pressure is on to the last shot on the hole, she can be depended upon to win.

At the present time, Mrs. Baker is at her best.

Al Mello Is Signed for Two Battles

Al Mello, New England middleweight champion, is ready to go on the warpath once more.

One week from Mello's next fight will start the summer campaign at Portsmouth, N. H., where he will meet Tracy Ferguson of Connecticut in a 10-round bout.

On the night of June 4 he will battle Frankie O'Brien, champion of Harry Biletski, in an open air affair at the East Hartford velodrome.

The Mello-Biletski battle has been going on for some time and Mello, champion of the National Boxing Association, is expected to win the championship of New England and Mello will be attempting to win his second New England title against the sturdy Hartford southpaw.

It is the most important match held in New England and Mello's side of Boston since Louis had his fight with him in 1917.

His fatherweight championship of the United States open championship at the Country Club, Eddie Lowery, then a mere lad in his early days, displayed an unusual knowledge of golf.

His selection of clubs would have done credit to a veteran, and his advice to Francis to "keep your head down, I'll watch the ball" was as sound as ever offered to any player in such an all important match.

When the challenge for Francis (now, Eddie Lowery) resolved to win a championship, and he has made good. Eddie Lowery won his first title in 1917, when he defeated the late Nat Law in the finals of the Massachusetts Junior championship at the Country Club.

And the following year he successfully defended his title at Oakley where he won over George A. Black.

Last season Eddie Lowery won a championship title at the Charles River Country Club.

With the possible exception of his work on the greens, there is no player in the game and is deadly from just off the greens.

Since he started as an amateur, Eddie Lowery has made a thorough study of golf and today there is no amateur player in the game who is his equal.

He is taking every minute of his action on the links. In all the years he has been playing, he has made fewer mistakes in putting than any other player in the game.

It is doubtful if there is a champion in the country who, through the years, has devoted as much time to the study of the game as Eddie Lowery.

We know and one afternoon each week is all the time that Eddie can give to his golf.

If Eddie Lowery had the time to devote to his game, he would be a champion, and no player in the country would be his equal.

Harvard Favored to Beat Yale on Track

The aspirations of Eddie Farrell, Harvard track coach, are on the borders of reality.

Despite the improved season of the Harvard team, the coach has never been able to produce a winner in the 100-yard dash.

For the first time since Farrell came to Harvard as head coach, the team will enter the most famous track meet in the world, the Harvard-Yale meet, at the end of the season.

Harvard is expected to take in the 100-yard dash, the 200-yard dash, the 400-yard dash, the 800-yard dash, the 1,600-yard dash, the 3,200-yard dash, the 6,400-yard dash, the 12,800-yard dash, the LOS ANGELES, May 18—Any of these Hollywood producers who look upon Judge Ben Lindsey's famous phrase, "Companionate marriage" as a chance to make a jazz film may face a serious law suit.

Famous Composers

By COLETTE DOUGLASS

ONE of the most distinguished of the French composers, Benjamin Godard, was born at Paris on August 13, 1819. He inherited the Conservatoire at an early age, although he had previously studied the violin under Richard Wagner.

In 1863 his first composition, a violin sonata, appeared in the "Revue et Assemblée." It was a success. It was a success. It was a success.

Probably the finest of Godard's compositions are his songs. His productivity was enormous and for this reason his compositions are now or less unequal.

Godard's place in the realm of music as a first established and as a composer of the first rank is well known. He is a composer of the first rank.

New-Baked Just the way you said - by Heinz

There's a treat for your family waiting for you at your grocery—Heinz Oven-Baked Beans, Boston Style. You need not bake beans yourself to get that good old-time Boston flavor. Heinz now bakes beans just the way New England's best cooks said—little California pea beans—plenty of molasses—baking in real ovens until the beans are golden-brown and the sauce is sweet and rich and luscious. Try these Boston Style Beans. Just see how perfectly we have caught that old-time flavor. You'll enjoy it.

REMEMBER THERE'S JOY IN LIVING EVERY DAY

By J. J. MUNDY
YOU can be a very successful man.

It has taken a hard struggle to advance to your position. The constant and tiring effort has left its impression on your face and your disposition.

Often you look at happy persons and their very good nature that angers you.

Not because they have done anything to hurt you.

But you feel that they must have found greater happiness in the world than you say you have experienced.

Then you think of them as weak little men—who have attained little and are satisfied with that little.

They seem like failures to you. It's your opinion that if they had pushed upward as you have there would be less animation in their voices and fewer smiles on their faces.

And you may be right about it. But if your gain has wrested from you the joy of living, haven't you been a failure after all?

MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE

By HELEN ROWLAND

MEN are always begging women to be "reasonable."

And yet, if a man fails to love with a woman, it is not because she is unreasonable or wise or intelligent, but because she is a woman.

It is not because she appeals to his common sense—but because she appeals to his curiosity or his vanity or some of his other five senses.

If he marries her, it is not because he has decided that he could get along with her—but because he has decided that he cannot get along WITHOUT her.

If he pursues her, it is not because he wants her, but because she causes some other man to look at him with a queer expression.

He asks her to be his housekeeper or nurse, belittle and value her life, not because he hates her, but because she is a woman.

He makes love to her, not in order to win her, but in order to please her or charm her—or just to pass the time.

He will forgive her for almost any crime, from speeding to murder and exonerate and acquit her, not because he is merciful, but because she is a woman.

He calls her up or takes her out, not because he particularly wants to—but because he can't think of anything else that he particularly wants to do.

He decides that he wants to marry her, not because he loves her, but because she is a woman.

A CHILD'S FAULTS

By L. LAMAR MATTHEWS

WHEN Denny was two years old he broke everything he could lay hands on.

He pulled the flower pots off the table, he jerked the curtains off their rods, he dragged the butter out of the box and he found the plumbings about as destructive as a child can be.

When he was six, he snuffed his finger in a dangerous fashion, he spilled milk on the table cloth and smothered his clothes with egg, but cream or what-not.

But he doesn't do that now. When he was 11 he was the dullest little rascal in the neighborhood.

His face was never crimson, his hair was never a place as early in the morning and just before dinner.

His clothes were soiled and torn, and his books were marked with a pencil or cut with a pen knife.

But he doesn't do that now. When he was 14, he was an uncut, blatant, lazy and defiant.

But he isn't that way now. Denny is a young man now—well-groomed, well-mannered, upstanding, energetic and ambitious.

His mother laughs at the thought that used to drive her to distraction. As each period of her son's life brought on a new crop of faults she wept and moaned, and he comforted.

Denny's father did not worry at all.

By MISS COUNTESS BECKMAN
DEAR MISS BECKMAN:—I have just received an invitation to a wedding. I am puzzled as to some of the details.

Would you kindly advise me? The invitation is as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Mary request the pleasure of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Mary to Mr. John Doe on Sunday evening, at twenty-eight at the Hollywood Temple.

Should I write an acceptance to this invitation? How shall I word a reply? It mentions nothing of a reception. Therefore shall I wear a black dress or a wedding dress?

It does not require an answer. I have indicated for the reply, in the Temple, and therefore does not require an acknowledgment. If there had also been an invitation to the reception, that invitation would have required an acceptance or regret.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON: 1—Clean streets.
2—Better pay for honest public service.
3—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
4—Execution of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land.
In order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND: 1—Weid the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.

3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

Maine Gets Set

Ready to "Go"

Chairman Clarence C. Stetson and his associates in the Maine Development Commission enter upon the more important part of their great work with the prudence which is nearly always characteristic of the sons of Maine.

This, we take it, is the significance of the Economic Conference which opens today in Bangor.

The problem the Maine Development Commission has set out to master are how to further develop the State, increase its wealth, reduce its tax burdens, improve industry, encourage agriculture and expand the tourist business.

Created by the Legislature of 1927 the Commission started off with an appropriation of $50,000 for each of two years. Cities and towns have added to the fund, there have been further contributions from public and private organizations and $135,000 is available for the work called for by the program for 1928.

How shall it be expended and in what direction? The pioneer in State publicity—at least amongst eastern or northern States—Maine wants to be told of the methods which have been used elsewhere, and with what success.

Governor and Council, presidents of the four colleges, heads of 23 State departments, Maine members of the New England Council and more than 100 representatives of the State Chamber of Commerce and its branches will bear Manager John Hilder, of the civic development department of the United States Chamber of Commerce, on "A State Takes Account of Itself."

Merwin K. Hart of New York and L. R. Schoenmann of Michigan will tell of industrial and land surveys in those States; Mr. Clarence J. France of the "Value of Community Advertising."

A paper of particular promise will be that of President Stratton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, "Cooperation Between Educational Institutions and Industry and Agriculture, with a view to securing Opportunities IN MAINE FOR MAINE YOUTH."

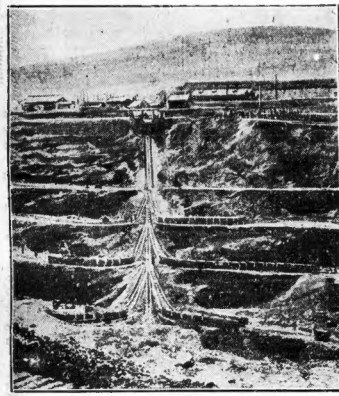

The Development Commission already has succeeded in developing a very real interest in Maine. The name of the State appears frequently in the newspapers, the activities of its public men are reported, the beauty and appeal of its resorts proclaimed.

WHEN IS OUR OWN STATE GOING TO WAKE UP? The Massachusetts attitude toward publicity—to consider but one item in the program of the Maine Development Commission—is that of the old-time trader who kept the only store in town: "If they want what I've got they can come and get it."

In the three States to the north they know better.

Oil and Power Mean Wealth and Conquest

A JAPANESE-OWNED COAL AND OIL MINE

This picture, which may mean a great deal to the future wealth and power of Japan, shows an "open cut" mine at Fushun, Manchuria, owned by a Japanese corporation.

In the lower part of the picture, where the coal cars are, you see the coal part of the enterprise. The upper layer, above the first level in the mine, is made up of oil shale, a quantity of it said to be "almost inexhaustible." Oil shale is a brittle sand stone which has absorbed a great deal of the oil from which gasoline is made.

We have in the United States enough of that oil shale to keep us supplied with gasoline at the present rate of consumption for centuries.

Our wealth of oil shale, in which are tied up endless billions of gallons of oil, is neglected for the present because we have the pure oil spouting from the ground all over the country.

Japan and other countries are not so fortunate. And the Japanese propose now to get the oil out of the Manchurian shale. The mine shown in this picture is already installing a distilling plant to recover the oil.

This has been done profitably in other countries, and

LIVING ON A HIGH PLANE IS GOOD

By DR. FRANK CRANE

WE speak of certain people as those who live high. Ordinarily we mean those who eat luxuriously, far, sumptuously every day, consume lobsters, champagne and caviar, those who sleep in soft beds and generally pander themselves.

This kind of high living makes for softness and inefficiency. It usually winds up in boredom or black pessimism. Somehow or other the soul of man cannot thrive on chocolate sundaes. Tannhauser at last came to naught living a luxurious life with the goddess of beauty in Venusberg. He longed for sorrow and struggle. He truly typifies the life of man is incomplete without realizing something of the human conflict.

But there are people who persistently and constantly live on a high plane. Such persons occupy their minds with high problems and other things of high endeavor.

They do not let themselves down into the morass of indecency or despair.

It is easy for any one to give up, to say that the buffeting waves of this mundane experience are too much for him, and to live a miserable and complaining life.

This is low thinking. Just as a man is endowed with a spirit that can soar above the animals so this spirit can bring him down to the animal level.

One who lives in sloth and dirt, who enjoys the vile things of existence and who scorn all high endeavor is, after all, but a wallowing hog.

We can take the high or the low view of whatever happens to us.

None of us are exempt from trouble, but we can bear it nobly or ignobly. Sorrow and loss come to all, but how shall we meet it? It may bring us to a kinship with God or it may drag us down to the level of Satan.

Let us think high thoughts, cultivate high emotions and indulge in high pleasures, and put away from us all degrading thoughts, unworthy emotions or pleasures that soil the soul.

For every one who lives high, who takes a lofty view of himself and of his duties, the world is better off. Too often we think of ourselves as mere creatures of the dust. The high thought of ourselves as sons of God, destined to a glorious career. Man will usually make of himself something like what he thinks of himself.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

WHEN I'm very tired I go to the old inn at San Juan Bautista, where the quail call across the plain at sunrise and the falling acoust blossoms, honey sweet, crum-

When I come to the inn there are always roses on the wall. Thick Spanish roses, anemones of cinnamon-white moon roses, Ragged Robin roses, their crimson petals scattering about the rug-spreads and clove plants. Each time I come there is a bouquet waiting for me, to put beside a picture that I always carry. Mayne Clancy puts it there, knowing how it comforts me.

Afterwards, as I rest on the balcony, giving myself up to the quietness, Lawrence Peir comes, smiling, and brings me a glass of milk or cider. And little Freddie Beck, who is four years against my knee and offers me a jelly bean or a cookie with only one bite gone.

So my friends welcome me when I go to them.

I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me. I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me.

I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me. I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me.

I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me. I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me.

I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me. I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me.

I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me. I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me.

I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me. I am just beginning to realize how much such welcome means to me.

NEW YORK, May 18—Thoughts while strolling: The British-looking fumes around the Ellipse, Maurice Campbell, the prohibition director, and husband of Henrietta Crozman. The emmelled young folks in florid shops. And women in the travesty of masculine attire.

The plump woman doctor who drives in a pony-drawn dog cart [that's sleeping and are you in need of a bright boy?]

A STAGE doorman tells me that stars are rarely bothered by love-sick admirers. Romeo does not moon around stage doors. They express their feelings chiefly through man-agers. The real heart-breakers of the stage doors are the autograph hunters. They are thick in New York and are constantly sending in their autographs with letters asking for such intimate sentiments as "To the autograph."

AND I am told the signatures most desired by autograph hunters are those of Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney.

A YOUNG New York jeweler once told me that the most popular of Ralph Barton in the hope Charlie Chaplin, who was a guest for the evening, would sign it. Mr. Chaplin did, and underneath his signature he wrote: "To the autograph."

HAVE a push-backed autograph book which was a treasured possession during formative years. Among the autographs are those of "Diamond Jack," proprietor of Diamond Jack's Medicine Carnival; Alton Dunstun, Kitty Rhodes, Walker Holmes, advance agent, Price's Post-Office, Ota Morow, district chair- man of the New York Optical Co., and Dr. Samuel Leopold, district chair- man of the New York Optical Co.

ONE of the first things impressing the foreigner in this New York taxi-driver is that they are always young men. Abroad they are old and kind- ly. Here they are young and you- knowwhat.

what any other country can do, the able, patient and highly scientific Japanese can do.

Japan lacks oil and iron, and depends largely on other countries for both. But the shale may give the Japanese, at reasonable prices, all the oil they want.

And a new method of steel production, in which the United States Steel Corporation is now deeply interested, may solve Japan's steel problem and make her independent of the rest of the world for building, AND FOR FIGHTING, so far as steel and power are concerned.

By electric method steel can be produced more cheaply than by the present method. And it would make possible the use of ores that are now worthless or nearly so because harmful mixtures are not eliminated by the present heat treatment of iron ores.

The electric treatment, so simple that a child might have invented it, grinds up the ore to fine powder instead of heating and melting it. Only little heat is required, which makes the process cheap.

The powdered ore is passed over magnetized plates that hold the pure particles of iron, allowing the refuse to roll away.

Iron thus made will be purer and better than the ordinary iron of today, and will resist rust to a degree impossible in iron made in the old fashioned manner.

California and other parts of our Western Coast, that have lacked iron thus far, are interested in electric production of iron. Along the Pacific Coast of the United States, and along the shores of Japan, are practically inexhaustible deposits of sand, largely made up of iron. And from these sands the iron could be reclaimed easily, with dragages and the electric process.

Steel and iron made by electricity will soon be coming to this market in quantities from Scandinavia with a guarantee of rust-resisting qualities that may interfere considerably with sales of the old-fashioned home-made product.

With the aid of science all problems are solved; wealth that did not exist before is created and utilized.

In other words, the real wealth of the world is inside of that small white bone temple, the human skull.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALAN MICHAELS

HIS towers high above his fellows' heads, His place a lofty one since time began, Except he goes from weakness and dreariness, Among men, yet, apart, the supreme.

For him the clear vision which must guide, The better plan, the wiser course to take, His lot, the disadvantageous hardihood to wage, In ceaseless warfare progress must make.

He'll be a load too heavy for the rest, And still with eager step he sets men's pace; Be strong, triumphant, for within his breast, He wears himself a leader of the mass.
